I. Eligibility

(I) Applicant Status

- This program is open to overseas compatriot students, international students, and students from Hong Kong and Macau (excluding applicants from Mainland China). Both graduating students and those holding a bachelor's degree are eligible to apply.
- Applicants who are currently enrolled in a bachelor's program in Taiwan and wish to apply to this Special Program must do so using the same applicant status under which they were originally admitted, and may not change their status.
- Applicants must apply under a single applicant status, and each applicant may submit only one application. Multiple applications are not permitted.

A. Overseas Compatriot Student:

An “overseas compatriot student” refers to a student of Chinese descent who comes to Taiwan for study, and who was either born and has continuously resided overseas to the present time, or has resided overseas for six or more consecutive years in the immediate past, and has obtained permanent or long-term residency status in the place of overseas residence. Such status may be evidenced by citizenship or permanent residency in the place of overseas residence, or by an endorsement of overseas compatriot status on a Republic of China (Taiwan) passport. The determination of overseas compatriot student status is made by the competent authority for overseas Chinese affairs.

B. Students from Hong Kong or Macau:

1. “Students from Hong Kong or Macau” refers to residents of Hong Kong or Macau who hold permanent resident status in Hong Kong or Macau, and who have resided in Hong Kong, Macau, or other overseas regions for six or more consecutive years (calculated up to August 31, 2026). Applicants must also meet the requirements set forth in Article 4 of the Laws and Regulations Regarding Hong Kong and Macau Affairs and must not hold a foreign passport. Eligible applicants may apply for admission to study in Taiwan.
2. A Hong Kong or Macau resident who holds a permanent resident identity document of Hong Kong or Macau, has resided overseas for six or more consecutive years in the immediate past, and complies with Article 4 of the Laws and Regulations Regarding Hong Kong & Macao Affairs, and who does not hold a foreign passport, is eligible to apply for study in Taiwan. The determination of Hong Kong or Macau student status is made by the Ministry of Education.
3. This refers to ethnic Chinese students who hold foreign nationality and concurrently possess permanent resident status in Hong Kong or Macau, have never had household registration in Taiwan, and have resided in Hong Kong, Macau, or other overseas regions for six or more consecutive years. Applicants must apply from overseas in the same academic year. This category excludes those who are currently studying at senior secondary schools in Taiwan, those who have incomplete studies in the first year of a domestic university, and those who have completed the preparatory program at the Academy of Preparatory Programs for Overseas Chinese Students, National Taiwan Normal University.

Note 1: "Overseas" refers to countries or regions other than Mainland China, Hong Kong, and Macau.

Note 2: The status of overseas compatriot students shall be determined by the competent authority for overseas Chinese affairs, while the status of students from Hong Kong or Macau shall be determined by the Ministry of Education.

C. International Students:

1. Applicants who hold foreign nationality and have never held Republic of China (R.O.C.) nationality, and who meet the following requirements, are eligible to apply for admission:
 - (1) Have never previously studied in Taiwan as an overseas compatriot student.
2. Applicants who have not been assigned for admission in the same academic year through the University Entrance Committee for Overseas Chinese Students in accordance with the Regulations Regarding Study and Counseling Assistance for Overseas Compatriot Students in Taiwan, and who hold foreign nationality and meet the following requirements, and have resided overseas for six or more consecutive years in the immediate past:
 - (1) An applicant who also holds R.O.C. nationality at the time of application must never have had household registration in Taiwan.
 - (2) Applicants who previously held Republic of China (R.O.C.) nationality but no longer hold such nationality at the time of application must have completed at least eight years since the date of approval for loss of R.O.C. nationality granted by the Ministry of the Interior.
 - (3) Applicants under the preceding two subparagraphs must not have previously studied in Taiwan as overseas compatriot students, and must not have been assigned for admission in the same academic year through the University Entrance Committee for Overseas Chinese Students in accordance with the Regulations Regarding Study and Counseling Assistance for Overseas Compatriot Students in Taiwan.
 - (4) Foreign nationals who are selected and recommended by foreign governments, institutions, or schools to study in Taiwan under an educational cooperation agreement, and who have never had household registration in Taiwan, may, upon approval by the competent educational administrative authority, be exempt from the restrictions set forth in the preceding two paragraphs.
3. Applicants who hold foreign nationality and concurrently possess permanent resident status in Hong Kong or Macau, have never had household registration in Taiwan, and have resided continuously in Hong Kong, Macau, or overseas for six or more years at the time of application, are eligible to apply for admission in accordance with the relevant regulations.
4. Applicants who were formerly residents of the Mainland Area, who hold foreign nationality and have never had household registration in Taiwan, and who have resided overseas for six or more consecutive years at the time of application, are eligible to apply for admission in accordance with the provisions of these regulations.

【Note 1】: “Overseas” refers to countries or regions other than the Mainland Area, Hong Kong, and Macau. “Continuous residence” means that international students may not stay in Taiwan for more than 120 days in each calendar year. For years that are not complete calendar years in calculating the period of continuous overseas residence, the same rule applies—that the total duration of stay in Taiwan during each such year must not exceed 120 days. However, applicants who meet any of the following conditions and provide supporting documents—such as Applicants who have attended an Overseas Youth Technical Training Program organized by the competent authority for overseas Chinese affairs, or a technical training program recognized by the central competent education authority—may be exempted.

- (a) Applicants who have studied at Mandarin Language Centers of universities or colleges approved by the Ministry of Education to admit international students, for a cumulative period of less than two years.
- (b) Applicants who have stayed in Taiwan as exchange students for a total period of less than two years.
- (c) Applicants who have undertaken internships in Taiwan with the approval of the designated central competent authority, with a total internship period of less than two years.

(II) Academic Qualifications

- Applicants must hold a bachelor’s degree or higher, or possess equivalent qualifications recognized as comparable to Taiwan’s academic system.
- International students who are currently enrolled at other colleges or universities in Taiwan may apply for admission in accordance with this brochure. However, they are required to submit a certificate of enrollment and a full academic transcript issued by their current institution.
- Applicants applying with academic credentials obtained outside Taiwan must comply with the relevant regulations governing the assessment and recognition of such credentials, including the Regulations Governing the Assessment and Recognition of Foreign Academic Records by Institutions of Higher Education, the Regulations Regarding the Assessment and Recognition of Academic Credentials for the Mainland Area, and the Regulations Governing the Examination and Recognition of Educational Records from Hong Kong and Macau.

(III) Chinese Language Proficiency

Applicants must provide proof of Chinese language proficiency equivalent to Level 3 or above of the Test of Chinese as a Foreign Language (TOCFL).

II. Registration Method

All applications must be submitted online. Please access the Office of International Affairs website → Admissions for International Students → INTENSE Program → and select the Online Application System for the Online Application System for the INTENSE Program.

Note: The online application system is available 24 hours a day. To avoid potential system congestion, applicants are advised to complete their application as early as possible. Applicants who fail to complete online registration or payment within the specified deadline will not be able to upload the required application forms and supporting documents, and their application will be deemed incomplete.

III. Required Application Materials

Applicants must prepare all required application documents and complete the online application and document upload via the Online Application System for the INTENSE Program by May 3, 2026.

(I) Submitting of Application Materials under Special Circumstances

Applicants with special circumstances may alternatively submit their application materials via email to ntcustwit@gmail.com. The email subject line must be indicated as: 【2026 Fall INTENSE Program Admission Application】. Applicants are solely responsible for any adverse consequences arising from incomplete submission of required documents. All application materials will not be returned. Applicants are advised to retain copies for their own records.

※The fees listed above are charged on a per-semester basis. Each academic year consists of two semesters.

※In accordance with the “Regulations Governing Mainland Area Students to Study in Junior Colleges and Above in Taiwan”, Mainland Chinese students and international students are charged at 2.2 times the tuition and miscellaneous fees applicable to domestic students.

【Note 1】 Students who extend their period of study (i.e., are unable to graduate on time) and enroll in nine credits or fewer in a given semester shall be charged on a per-credit basis (0-credit courses are charged as one credit per class hour). Those who enroll in ten credits or more shall be required to pay full tuition and miscellaneous fees for that semester.

【Note 2】 Students are required to pay basic tuition and miscellaneous fees and credit fees. However, students who have completed all required course credits and have paid the thesis fee, but have not yet completed their thesis and are not enrolled in any additional courses during the extended period of study, are only required to pay the basic tuition and miscellaneous fees for each semester.

【Note 3】 Regardless of program or department, all students are required to pay the Computer Resource Usage Fee and the Student Insurance Fee each semester, in accordance with the University's Guidelines for Information Appliance Fees.

VI. Fellowship

(I) Government Fellowship

A. Necessary administrative expenses incurred for first-time entry into Taiwan to enroll in this program: A one-time subsidy will be provided, covering pre-arrival health examination fees, visa application fees, and document authentication fees. The subsidy caps are set by region: up to TWD 10,000 for New Southbound Policy countries and other countries, and up to TWD 25,000 for Europe and the United States. Reimbursement will be made on an actual expense basis, and the exchange rate of USD to TWD announced by the Bank of Taiwan on the date of receipt issuance shall be applied.

- B. One-way airfare for first-time entry into Taiwan to enroll in this program: A one-time subsidy will be provided. The airfare will be reimbursed based on the actual cost of the most direct economy-class one-way ticket to Taiwan. The subsidy caps are set by region: up to TWD 9,000 for New Southbound Policy countries and up to TWD 35,000 for Europe and the United States. The exchange rate of USD to TWD announced by the Bank of Taiwan on the date of receipt issuance shall be applied.
- C. Government scholarships and subsidies after enrollment (limited to a maximum of two years):
 - 1. A subsidy is provided for the actual tuition and miscellaneous fees payable to the University, with a maximum of TWD 100,000 per year (up to TWD 50,000 per semester), to be reimbursed on an actual expense basis.
 - 2. Each semester, the University and its partner enterprises will jointly review the academic performance and overall conduct of students in the program, and subsidies will be awarded based on merit.
 - 3. If the total amount of tuition and miscellaneous fees exceeds the subsidy amount, the difference shall be borne by the student.
- D. Students admitted to this program may not concurrently receive other scholarships or subsidies provided by the University or the Government of the Republic of China (R.O.C.).

(II) Scholarship from the Partnering Enterprise

- A. The partner enterprise provides each student with a monthly living allowance of TWD 10,000 during the period of study.
- B. During the internship period, the enterprise provides an internship allowance not lower than the statutory minimum wage.

(III) Obligations for Scholarship Recipients

- A. Students who receive the industry–academia collaboration scholarship funded by the National Development Fund are required to work in Taiwan for a period corresponding to the duration of the scholarship received.
- B. Students who receive the industry–academia scholarship for one year are required to work in Taiwan for one year (12 months). Students who receive the scholarship for two years are required to work in Taiwan for two years (24 months). If a participant in the two-year program changes jobs midway through the program, considering the time required for job hunting, they must fulfill the two-year employment obligation within two years and six months from the date of contract fulfillment. If the accumulated period of unemployment exceeds six months, the participant must repay the industry-academia collaboration grant proportionally to the number of months of unemployment.

(IV) Repayment Principles for Industry–Academia Collaboration Scholarship

Students who withdraw from the program before completion or fail to fulfill the employment obligation after graduation shall be required to repay the industry–academia scholarship in accordance with the following principles:

- A. Where the circumstances are not attributable to the student, the scholarship is not required to be repaid:
 - 1. If the original partnering enterprise discontinues the provision of the living allowance during the student’s period of study due to operational adjustments, and the student is unable to secure another enterprise willing to continue providing such allowance despite assistance from the University, resulting in withdrawal from the program.

2. If the original partnering enterprise is unable to offer a position upon the student's graduation due to operational adjustments, and the student is unable to secure suitable employment despite career counseling and placement assistance provided by the University.
 3. If, during the student's employment period, the partnering enterprise has circumstances as specified under Paragraph 1, Article 14 of the Labor Standards Act, leading the student to terminate the employment contract, and the student is still unable to secure suitable employment despite assistance from the University.
- B. Where the circumstances are attributable to the student, the industry–Academia Collaboration Scholarship shall be repaid:
1. If a student withdraws from the specialized program during the period of study due to personal reasons, including but not limited to applying for transfer to another school or department, taking a leave of absence and returning to their home country, or abandoning the program after counseling by the University, or is dismissed or expelled in accordance with the University's academic regulations, the student shall repay the full amount of the scholarship received.
 2. If a student's academic performance fails to meet the evaluation standards of both the University and the partnering enterprise, and no improvement is made after counseling, resulting in dismissal or expulsion in accordance with the University's academic regulations, the student shall repay the full amount of the scholarship received.
 3. If a student is certified, based on the professional assessment of the partnering enterprise and a medical certificate or other supporting documents issued by a teaching hospital accredited under the Ministry of Health and Welfare's New Hospital Accreditation system or above, as having suffered a serious illness, major accident, or death, and is therefore unable to continue their studies or employment, the repayment of the living allowance may be reduced proportionally, and part or all of the employment obligation may be waived. However, the student shall still bear the remaining responsibilities in accordance with the determination of the partnering enterprise.
 4. If a student fails to commence employment with the partnering enterprise within three months after graduation, and no improvement is made after counseling by the University, the student shall repay the full amount of the industry–Academia Collaboration Scholarship received.
 5. If a student, after commencing employment, violates company regulations and has the labor contract lawfully terminated, and no improvement is made after counseling by the University, the student shall repay the industry–Academia Collaboration Scholarship in proportion to the number of months not employed; any fraction of a month shall be counted as one full month.
 6. If a student's period of employment with the partnering enterprise is shorter than the duration for which the industry–Academia Collaboration Scholarship was received, the student shall repay the scholarship in proportion to the number of months not employed; any fraction of a month shall be counted as one full month.

VII. Other Fees

Off-Campus Housing	TWD12,000~36,000 / semester	USD400~1,200 / semester
Living Expenses	TWD6,000~9,000 / month	USD200~300 / month

※ The figures above are for reference only, as actual expenses may vary depending on individual spending habits.

VIII. Related Support

To assist international students in adapting smoothly to academic study and daily life in Taiwan, the University provides comprehensive Chinese language learning resources and student support services. Through structured coursework, a buddy system, and a range of support mechanisms, students are supported in improving their Chinese proficiency and adapting to campus life and the living environment in Taiwan.

(I) Measures to Improve Chinese Proficiency

A. Ministry of Education Chinese Language Enhancement Program

The University participates in the Ministry of Education's Chinese Language Enhancement Program and arranges approximately two hours of after-class Chinese learning sessions per week during the academic term. These sessions are taught by qualified instructors with professional expertise in Chinese language teaching to help overseas students strengthen their listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills.

B. Online Chinese Courses Before Enrollment and During Winter and Summer Breaks

The Office of International Affairs has established a Chinese Language Teaching Division, which provides online Chinese courses for new overseas students before enrollment and during winter and summer breaks. The courses are taught by professional Chinese language instructors and are offered with level-based instruction and guidance according to students' proficiency levels.

(II) Student Guidance and Support Measures

A. Office of International Affairs Student Services

The International Student Exchange Group, Office of International Affairs, provides overseas students with comprehensive administrative and daily life support, including application for admission, issuance of admission notices, visa applications, accommodation arrangements, insurance enrollment, and applications for residence permits and work permits.

B. Class Mentorship

The specialized program assigns full-time faculty members as class mentors responsible for students' academic and daily life guidance. Mentors arrange regular weekly class meetings to interact with students and record counseling details through the University's e-portal mentoring system, enabling the Office of Student Affairs and the Office of International Affairs to jointly monitor students' academic progress and living conditions and provide necessary support.

C. International Counselor

The University assigns international counselor based on the number of international students in each college and department, and provides relevant training to ensure that counselors can better support students in adapting to academic study and daily life in Taiwan.

D. Mandarin Study Buddy and Mandarin Advisor

The Chinese Language Teaching Section, Office of International Affairs, implements a study buddy and Mandarin advisor system. After enrollment, new students will first take the Test of Chinese as a Foreign Language, and based on the results, Mandarin advisors will be assigned to assist students in improving their Chinese proficiency. In addition, Taiwanese students are assigned as study buddies to help international students adapt to campus life and daily life in Taiwan from a peer perspective.

IX. Other Application Notes

- (I) Applicants are advised to carefully review the application forms and the regulations of each department/program and complete the application procedures accordingly.
- (II) In accordance with Ministry of Education regulations, international students who have previously been dismissed or had their student status revoked by any university or college in Taiwan due to misconduct, unsatisfactory academic performance, or serious violations of laws or university regulations are not eligible to apply for admission as international students. If any such case is verified, the University will revoke the applicant's admission.
- (III) In accordance with Ministry of Education regulations, international students are required, upon registration, to submit proof of overseas medical and accident insurance valid for at least six months from the date of entry into Taiwan.
- (IV) Applicants must ensure that the email address and contact telephone number provided in the application are accurate. The University will contact applicants as necessary. Failure to respond within the specified timeframe will be deemed a forfeiture of the applicant's rights.
- (V) If an applicant does not meet the eligibility requirements, or if any submitted admission documents are found to be forged, altered, or contain false information, the University shall take the following actions upon verification:
 - Prior to registration: the admission offer shall be revoked.
 - After registration: the student status shall be revoked, and no academic certificates or related documents shall be issued.
 - After graduation: the graduation qualification shall be revoked, and the degree certificate shall be rescinded.
- (VI) If any matters are not addressed in this admission brochure, they shall be handled in accordance with applicable laws and regulations and the resolutions of the International Student Admissions Committee of the University.
